

As a preferred provider of examination gloves for the North American market since 2000, Aurelia Gloves (a division of Supermax Healthcare, Inc.) produces an extensive portfolio of innovative Latex and Nitrile gloves.

Thanks to our uncompromised emphasis on safety, comfort, quality and value, Aurelia helps ensure clean, comfortable environments for healthcare professionals and patients alike. And by continually advancing the development, manufacturing, automation and supply chain management processes, we've maintained consistently high value and affordability throughout our wide array of brands.

In 2014, we extended our mission to encompass Aurelia Cares[™], our corporate social responsibility program. Aurelia Cares is epitomized by our commitment to channeling a percentage of profits back into the community through worthy organizations such as the Oral Cancer Foundation, as well as the recent completion of our new LEED gold certified North American Headquarters.
